FINDS NO VALUE AS AID TO PEACE

Ohio's Jenkins Protests Possible Pottery Reductions

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Representative Fish (R-N.Y.) told a committee of tariff experts conducting hearings today on a proposed British trade treaty that the administration's reciprocal trade policy was a "humbug on the American people."
"All these reciprocal trade agreements do," the New Yorker said, "is to cause more unemployment in our own country."
Fish criticized the state department for what he described as its "propaganda" in "painting these treaties as aids to peace."
"Aid to Peace," Says Hull
Secretary Hull in a letter made public yesterday asserted his reciprocal trade policy was an "aid to peace in a troubled world."
"This is just plain humbug and humbug," Fish shouted. "What possible effect on peace can the treaty just concluded have with Czechoslovakia? How is it going to keep the Czechs out of war?"
Representative Jenkins (R-Ohio) challenged the constitutionality of the trade agreements act and protested any possible duty reductions on pottery.
"Japan is trying to capture our pottery market and the benefits in the British agreement would go to Japan," he said.

Vote Proposed On Program Of Navy Expansion

House Continues Discussion of Foreign Policy Implications

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—A proposal that the people vote on the administration's billion dollar naval expansion program at the November election came today from Representative Sauthoff (Pro-Wis.).
Asserting the construction program could not be started for two years, Sauthoff said nothing would be lost if the voters decided in its favor.
Constantly reminded of the shifting European panorama, the house continued its discussion of foreign policy implications in the bill to enlarge the navy.
Opponents of the legislation contended the existing national defense was adequate.
Proponents argued that the "in-ventibility" of another European war made it imperative for this country to strengthen her naval forces.
Representative Tinkham (R-Mass.) declared in yesterday's debate that President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull have been "not only friendly but in alliance with England and England's policies."
An angry denial came from Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house naval committee, who asserted there was "not a scintilla of evidence" to back up the assertion.
The navy, without waiting for congress to act on the construction program, proceeded with its quiet development of defense in Alaska and the adjacent Aleutian islands.
Informed persons said the navy department had taken steps to triple the number of seaplane bases on the northern side of its California-Hawaii-Alaska defense triangle.

SAYS HE'LL SUE IF ANYTHING'S WRONG

Davey Takes to Air to Defend State's "Hot Mix" Program

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, March 15.—Att'y Gen. Herbert S. Duffy opened today an investigation into the activities of Shaw Transport, Inc., which holds the contract to haul the state's liquor, after Gov. Martin L. Davey, in a radio address, defended the highway department's "hot-mix" program.
While the governor protested over a state-wide network last night that "partisan intrigue" was responsible for charges of waste laid before the senate graft-hunting committee, the attorney general announced he had ordered a transcript of testimony before the committee dealing with the activities of Shaw Transport.
Davey's Third Address
The address was Governor Davey's third in as many weeks. Previously he had defended the liquor department which, the committee charged in a partial report, was "shot through with forgery and graft."
Duffy said he would study the transcript and if there was evidence that "something is wrong," he would "not hesitate" to file a suit to break the contract.
Witnesses testified before the committee that Shaw Transport was a trucking firm without trucks—that it paid the United States Lines, Inc. the firm previously holding the contract, 11 1/2 cents a case for hauling liquor for which the state allowed 17 cents in its contract with Shaw. One of the Shaw company's stockholders is John A. Nolan of Steubenville, Jefferson county Democratic chairman.

New German Reich Is Now Larger Than France

Europe's often-changed map again stands revised, the new German Reich combining Germany and Austria in an empire containing a population of 72,719,000 and an area of 220,000 square miles. Czechoslovakia now appears to be the key factor in a tense situation since Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is believed to have as his next objective the incorporation of 3,500,000 people of Germanic descent now living in the war-created state of Czechoslovakia into the new Nazi empire. To this France is strongly opposed and looks to Great Britain for support in helping the Czechs to maintain their independence. Poland, having signed a 10-year non-aggression pact with Germany, figures less actively in the picture, while Italy is apparently following a laissez faire policy as regards the Nazi expansion. German military strength cannot be accurately estimated because of secrecy shrouding Nazi war machine.

CZECHS' FREEDOM AT ISSUE

Condemns Germany;
Acts to Put Nation
On Wartime Basis

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, March 15.—Prime Minister Chamberlain was determined today to match the armed might of Adolf Hitler before publicly pledging Britain to support Czechoslovakia against German aggression.
There were indications that Britain privately had told Germany she might be compelled to act if Chancellor Hitler sought to bring the German minority in Czechoslovakia into the German nation, as without opposition he absorbed Austria.
No Public Guarantee
Publicly, however, Chamberlain refrained yesterday in his address to the house of commons from any guarantee of aid to Czechoslovakia. Nevertheless, the British ambassador, Sir Neville Henderson, told Field Marshal Goering in Berlin, diplomatic informants said, that Britain considered "binding" his friendly assurances to Czechoslovakia on Saturday.
A similar communication went to Jan Masaryk, the Czech minister to London.
One assuring bit of information came from Richard Butler, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs.
He told parliament he had ascertained "the German army would be withdrawn after a certain period and when normalcy has been restored" in Austria, and that "we have received assurances every effort will be used to insure a sense of moderation in the treatment of Catholics, Jews and Socialists."
Always Interested
Addressing the house of commons, Chamberlain repeated Germany's contention that Britain had no right to interest itself in Austrian independence and avowed:
"His majesty's government is and must always be interested in developments in central Europe."
He voiced "severe condemnation" of Germany's step in Austria and enunciated his program to put Britain on a wartime footing.
Today he was busy endeavoring to win opposition parties to support tremendous defenses, which eventually might even include compulsory military service for all capable of fighting.
Britain's present five-year defense program in its second year, is to cost $7,500,000,000 but the figure may be raised to $10,000,000,000.
Exactly what form of action Britain would undertake in the event of a German push into Czechoslovakia was not apparent today.

Link Erie, Canton White Slave Rings

ERIE, Pa., March 15.—The May grand jury will investigate vice conditions here, Assistant District Attorney R. A. Laub announced today.
The district attorney also said that federal agents were gathering evidence in connection with a white slave ring alleged to be operating between New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and other cities.
The decision to have the grand jury investigate vice conditions followed the arrest of eight women in raids.
The federal investigation dates back to January, when a gypsy dancer, brought here from Canton, O., revealed vice conditions in Erie and Canton, the district attorney said.

STATE STREAMS RISING TODAY

Rain, Warm Weather forecast Brings Threat
Of Danger

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, March 15.—Overflowing streams in southern Ohio blocked highways and inundated lowlands today as the result of a two-day steady rainfall.
A forecast of rain and warmer weather led residents along the Ohio river tributaries to take precautionary measures. The Little Miami overflowed its banks last night and state highway employees closed Route 73 between Corwin and Wayneville in Butler county.
The stream was reported bank-full at Morrow in Warren county, where it flows through the village.
Paint creek was reported at a high stage in Bainbridge, Ross county, and the Scioto river was at 9.96 feet. Flood stage is 16 feet.
State highway patrol headquarters listed routes closed by high water: 278 between Carbon Hill and Nelsonville in Athens county; 146 between Cumberland and Pleasant City in Guernsey county; 313 between Route 21 and Senecaeville, Guernsey county, and 161 and 37 at Granville.
At East Liverpool, the Ohio river had passed the 16-foot stage this morning, with no immediate flood threat in view.

Hitler, In Vienna Square, Appeals To New Subjects

Germany Takes Over Complete Austrian Government; Jews Not Allowed To Vote

(By Associated Press)
VIENNA, March 15.—Germany took over the complete Austrian government today just after Fuehrer Hitler from Vienna's historic Heroes' Square appealed to 7,000,000 new subjects of Nazi Germany to meet their new responsibilities.
Simultaneously it was announced Jews henceforth would not be allowed to vote.
After Foreign Minister Wilhelm Wolf relinquished the Austrian foreign office to the German foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, the Austrian treasury was absorbed into the German treasury.
The forestry office became a continuation of Field Marshal Hermann Goering's department.
The interior ministry, war department and other parts of the Austrian government all were turned over to German officials.
Hitler's Talk Is Brief
Hitler, speaking from a rostrum in Vienna's historic Heroes' Square, today told 7,000,000 new Austrian subjects of Nazi Germany in seven curt sentences to meet their responsibilities as they did in the past.
He promised them hard work for economic betterment.
He told them Austria would be a fortress of national socialism.
The Fuehrer, entering the square by the Burg (castle) gate, never opened except for conquerors and the most important state occasions, made two significant references that hundreds of thousands of wildly cheering persons who are now Germans—not Austrians—applauded almost unceasingly.
One was his reference to Arthur Seyss-Inquart, who succeeded Kurt Schuschnigg as chancellor, as the "governor of Austria."
He thus reduced Austria to the status of another gau, or section, of the German fatherland.
Boasts Increased Strength
His other reference was a warning that German strength increases with the amount of opposition brought against it.
Addressing an almost hysterical mass of humanity as "German men and women," the Fuehrer asserted: "In the last few days have occurred events which cannot be evaluated yet—an unification of the German nation."
"I know this new portion of the German Reich will meet its responsibility as the old nation has."

GERMAN-AUSTRIA

On Feb. 4, Adolf Hitler purged the German army, firing the first gun in a campaign for seizure of Austria. Five weeks later, the campaign had gained its objective. The government of Austria was in the hands of Nazis. German soldiers were marching in Austrian territory. The pan-Germanism which had been sought constantly since the World War—which had been a fact before the war—was accomplished. German-Austria once more was an ambition which had been realized.

There is no way of knowing what this will mean in the shakedown of reality which now will take place. A climax has been reached in German expansion under the Nazis. The immediate question is whether it can be dealt with in Europe without striking a spark of military action. The question beyond that is whether events now will shape up into some greater climax which will precipitate war if immediate war is evaded.

The method of the Nazis is significant. They have accomplished a tremendous coup by political pressure, backed up by a threat of bloodshed. They have invaded a country whose independence was guaranteed by other European powers—invaded it with nothing more than riots to mark the conquest. They have challenged successfully the pressure which the new defunct League of Nations was supposed to be able to exert to prevent German expansion in central Europe. More important than that, they have challenged successfully the force of individual members of the League of Nations.

They have been able to do this because they had the sympathy of an aggressive, purposeful minority inside Austria which wanted Nazi methods. They have been able to do it because the only powers which could have prevented it—the shattered combination of governments which guaranteed Austrian independence—were unwilling, perhaps unable, to do as separate governments what could have been done only by an united front against Germany.

It is a triumph for the Nazi method—a triumph which even German army officers believed to be so risky that the key spokesmen for their group had to be relieved of responsibility before the Nazi masters were free to proceed. Having gone thus far, they pose the defiant question: Who dares to say how much further we can go?

In five tempestuous weeks, they already have done what 20 years ago was thought to have been made forever impossible.

PART OF THE HISTORY

The name of Dr. William A. Wirt, who died Friday at the age of 64, will be part of the reminiscent lore of the generation which a quarter of a century from now will be in a mood to talk over old times.

Aside from Dr. Wirt's contribution to education, which was a considerable one, it is interesting to wonder what may be said of his one emergence into the political limelight, say a quarter of a century from now.

In 1934 he started the country with the charge that a group of radicals (red ones) inside the administration had formed a plot to overthrow America's social system. He had picked up this information at a party in the capital. It never was made clear whether Dr. Wirt overheard something he wasn't supposed to hear, or whether he was pumped full of notions as a kind of prank. The latter was the alibi of the talkers he quoted, and because his countrymen wanted to believe them, instead of him, they accepted it.

That was the way it was in 1934. Today—well, a lot of water has run under the bridge in four years. A quarter of a century hence—"Remember Doc Wirt?" some old timer will croak. "Now that was an interesting thing. To this day I believe maybe he really did see something under the bed when he went down to Washington. He may have called it the wrong color, and he died before he had a chance to make sure what it was, but things sure happened back there fast and furious didn't they. There must have been something there besides dust."

SENATE CONSIDERS AID FOR "SMALL BUSINESS"

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Senate finance committee members considered informally today a proposal to aid "small business" by downward adjustment of rates in the administration tax bill.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) indicated an attempt might be made to change house-approved rates of 12½ to 16 per cent tax on firms showing a net profit of $25,000 a year.

From Senator Bailey (D-NC) came a suggestion that the committee study the imposition of a gross income tax, or a levy on capital investment, in an effort to reach large corporations which might escape heavy taxes under the present bill.

Sentiment appeared to be solidifying in the committee for outright repeal of the undistributed surplus tax, modified by the house.

Roswell McGill, under secretary of the treasury, told them the bill was $22,000,000 short of needed revenue because the house killed the closely-held corporations tax.

The senate set this afternoon for a test vote on the government reorganization bill.

The issue was an amendment by Senator Walsh (D-Mass.) to preserve the three-man civil service commission. The bill as drafted would replace the commission with a single administrator, appointed by the President for 15 years.

The senate yesterday approved

When you see otherwise calm and reasonable men slowly going berserk under accumulating burdens of domestic uproar—

When you see housewives with towels about their heads and a purposeful glint in their eyes as they move through a maze of furniture in places where furniture never should be—

You may know it has started and that the cue for good philosophers is to lie low until it's all over, until curtains are hung up again, walls and floors are clean and life returns to normal.

The secret is to seem not to mind it, not to fight against it, but to accept it as something which must take place as each winter draws to a close, like the spring rise on the rivers and long stories of hokum about baseball training camp sensations who somehow never turn out to be sensations when the season opens.

THE STARS SAY:

For Wednesday, March 16.

According to the predominant influences for this day, there may be temptations to launch plans or make contacts of an experimental nature. There are not under favorable auspices for success. There are dangers from strangers and in untried methods. Legal complications or distorted documents in these may figure. Keep on, with industry and sound judgment, to develop plans, and seek diversion in social, domestic or artistic pursuits.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves under an urge to put over expansive new propositions or important undertakings, but it would be better to defer this until a more propitious time. Strangers, legal complications and other detriments are possible. Seek diversion socially, but don't neglect to continue with cherished plans.

A child born on this day may be clever and energetic, although adventurous, restless and fond of change or travel.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City.

VARICOSE VEINS

SUDDEN PAIN in the legs is a not unusual symptom. Perhaps the victim has been conscious of a constant ache which he has neglected. With the onset of the severe pain and examination of the leg, he is surprised to find that the veins are distended, engorged and much enlarged.

This is a common affliction. It is medically known as "varicose veins". Any vein of the body may become involved, but those of the lower extremity are the ones usually affected.

Just why such changes should occur in a blood vessel is not well understood. Some never suffer in this way but others acquire the trouble at an early age. Usually it is associated with age. It is more commonly found in those who are overweight and are obliged to stand on their feet a great deal.

Has Elasticity

Normally, a vein, possesses a great deal of elasticity, being easily distended or compressed. It is usually compared to an elastic rubber band, which after being stretched recoils at once to its normal size and shape. But if the elasticity is lost the varicose condition develops. The blood vessel no longer has the ability to stretch and recoil. It becomes firm and brittle. As a result of these changes, the blood is unable to flow freely through the vessel. This leads, so to speak, to stagnation of the blood, and enlargement of the vessel.

When I was a young doctor, varicose veins were treated by the wearing of an elastic stocking or by the use of some other appliance. In a severe case the victim was subjected to an operation in which the diseased blood vessel was stripped from the leg. This was a painful and disfiguring procedure, requiring a rather long time for recovery.

Today varicose veins are treated in a much more simple manner. One way is by the so-called injection method. In this treatment a "sclerosing" solution is injected into the tissues, resulting in the ultimate obliteration of the varicose. Consult with your doctor who will advise you about it.

If he does not approve of this method of control, he will recommend some other. The important thing is to get rid of an annoying and disabling condition.

Answers to Health Queries
H. S. Q.—What would cause the hair on the body to fall out. This condition is mostly confined to the body rather than the head. Is there any medication which would help this condition?

A—See your doctor for examination. He will advise the necessary treatment.

Ogpu's Guns Blaze, 18 Believed Slain

MOSCOW, March 15.—Guns of the Ogpu blazing away in secret execution corridors were believed today to have snuffed out the lives of 18 condemned traitors and murderers, victims of Russia's latest purge trial.

The time and place of such executions always are a mystery but if Soviet practice was followed they were carried out within a few hours after rejection of appeals for mercy.

The presidium of the Supreme Soviet last night sealed their fate by denying clemency to 17 of the convicted. The name of only one of the plotters, A. P. Rosenglotz, former foreign trade commissar, was omitted from the list of appeals denied. It was assumed he had not even asked for mercy.

Three other defendants received long prison sentences.

Sues For $2,500

Hays asserts he was employed by McIntosh as a laborer on March 1, 1937, when the accident occurred. He charges the defendant failed to provide proper safeguards.

HITLER TALKS TO AUSTRIANS

Germany takes Over Complete Austrian Government

the blocks beyond, as all Vienna went wild to greet the Austrian-born leader who had returned as the ruler of both Austria and Germany.

At the conclusion of a surprisingly short speech, Hitler walked down the stairs of the heroes monument from which he greeted war veterans, some of whom were brought to the base of the story-high memorial in wheelchairs.

Afterwards he drove away in his automobile with Seyss-Inquart at his side.

Some observers thought significant Hitler's passage recalling Austria as a historic "outpost" and "newest bulwark" of the German people in which he said:

"Through centuries in troubled times of the past, storms of the east have broken on the border of the old eastern outpost (Ostmark)."

It was wondered if this were another reference to "drang nach Osten"—march to the east.

While Hitler spoke European maps were displayed showing Germany and Austria as one nation in dark red. Czechoslovakia was shown with a broken line. Crowds looking at the maps in store windows cheered his unofficial prediction involving the German-Austrian neighbor of Czechoslovakia.

Livestock Numbers Remain Unchanged

COLUMBUS — The annual estimates of the cooperative crop reporting service indicate little change in the numbers of livestock on Ohio farms Jan. 1, 1938 and Jan. 1, 1937.

The total of horses and hogs remained substantially the same: A 1 per cent decrease in cattle and milk cows was noted this year; a 2 per cent increase for sheep, and a 3 per cent increase for mules.

Chickens dropped off 11 per cent in numbers, although the total value was greater due to an increase from 74 cents to 86 cents in the estimated worth of each bird.

Pen Guards' Raise Opposed by Spaght

COLUMBUS, March 15.—Opposition to a bill recently passed by the general assembly appropriating $102,500 to increase the pay of Ohio penitentiary guards $50 per month came today from Assistant State Welfare Director Oakley Spaght who said he might ask Gov. Martin L. Davey to veto it.
Spaght said there were "certain objections" to the bill which he did not care to discuss. The governor has until tonight to sign the measure which would restrict the present 60-hour work week of guards to 48 hours.
Davey yesterday signed four appropriation bills and one providing for transfer to the federal government of one-half the proceeds obtained from an old age pensioner's estate.

DR. RIGHTMIRE RESIGNS POST

O. S. U. Chief Asks to Be Relieved of Duties July 1; Speculation Over Successor Rife

COLUMBUS, O., March 15.—Educational circles buzzed with a fresh outburst of speculation today over the probable successor to Dr. George W. Rightmire, first Ohio State university alumnus to head his alma mater, who told the board of trustees that he wished to retire July 1, shortly before he becomes 70 years of age.

The former country school teacher who became president of the nation's sixth largest university, informed the board at a regular session yesterday: "I have just completed 12 years in the presidency of the university and am approaching the usual age of retirement from active service, accordingly I hereby most respectfully request the privilege of retiring, effective the first day of July, 1938."

The names of James Lewis Morrill, university vice president; Charles West, U. S. undersecretary of interior; Clarence Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, and Theodore Tangelman, former Ohio director of Commerce, have been mentioned at various times as probable successors to Dr. Rightmire.
Morrill now is the principal contact man for the university. He represents the institution at various functions and has been more active in meeting the public than has Dr. Rightmire in recent years.

DODGERS WIN FIRST TILT OF CLASS A PLAY-OFF

Althouse Quint is Winner Over Shasteen Sinclairs As Title Cage Play Opens

Whit's Garage Triumphs In Class B Contest After Close Battle; Baptists Rally In Last Frame To Nose Out Methodists In Class C Tilt

Taking an early lead and holding it throughout the game, the Althouse Dodgers defeated Shasteen's Sinclair Service Station quintet, 29 to 21, in the opening contest of the Class A City Basketball league's championship play-off at the Memorial building last night.

Three other leagues also started their title series. Whit's Garage won the first game of the Class B play-off, the Baptists came out on top in Class C and McKinley emerged victorious in the opening tilt in the Mickey McGuire loop for grade school teams.

Play-off games continue tonight at the Memorial gym with the same teams battling in each league series. The Class A contest will get under way at 8:30 following the Class B game at 7:30, the Class C fray at 6:45 and the Mickey McGuire tilt at 6.

In gaining their opening win in the Class A play-off, the Althouse quint encountered less trouble than expected. The Sinclairs failed to make a serious challenge at any time after falling behind in the first quarter.

The Dodgers pulled away to a three-point lead, 9 to 6, in the opening frame and went on to increase their advantage to five points, 13 to 8, in the second period.

Continuing to boost their lead, the Dodgers outscored the Sinclair combined six points to three in the third frame. Going into the final period, Althouse led, 19 to 11.

At Caltos hooped four field goals and two free throws to lead the Dodgers. In scoring with 10 points, Frank Culler topped in the individual point-making for the Sinclairs with 12 points, made on four field goals and a like number of free throws.

The Class B league produced the most evenly fought game of the Monday night program as Whit's Garage and the Columbians battled on practically even terms for three periods before Whit's quint gained a 21 to 17 victory in the final frame.

The score in the Class B contest was tied at 16-all going into the final period in which Whit's team outscored the Columbians, five points to one.

The Garagemen held a small lead throughout the first half, but their advantage was never safe from the constant threats of the Columbians.

Wiggers was the big gun for the Garage five, scoring 15 of his team's 21 points by collecting seven field goals and one charity toss.

A last-quarter rally gave the Baptists a 26 to 22 victory over the Methodists in the Class C league's opening play-off engagement.

Trailing by three points, 20 to 17, as they went into the final frame, the Baptists came to life to tally nine points in the last quarter while holding the Methodists to two.

B. Rogers led the M. E. team in scoring with 13 points. Roberts tallied 12 points for the losers.

Green, Landwert and Brian paced McKinley school's sixth grade team to a 22 to 17 victory over Prospect in the Mickey McGuire loop. Green tallied eight points, Landwert seven and Brian five.

McKinley led throughout the contest, staving off Prospect's last quarter rally to win. George Drakulich tallied 11 points for the losers.

European Crisis Centers on Them

Konrad Henlein
Czech Nazi leader

Edouard Benes
Czech president

Arthur Seyss-Inquart
Austrian chancellor

Outcome of Europe's present crisis depends largely on the actions of four men. Czechoslovakia, where 3,500,000 people of German descent live, may be the next objective of Adolf Hitler who aims to incorporate all Germanic people in the German Reich. In Czechoslovakia Edouard Benes is president and Konrad Henlein leader of the Nazi party. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, new Nazi chancellor of Austria, holds a strategic post while Joseph Paul-Boncour, new French foreign minister, is expected to lead the French government in a firm stand supporting Czechoslovakian independence.

Independence For Filipinos In Doubt

MANILA, March 15.—President Manuel Quezon today agreed with High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt that the question of Philippine independence should be re-examined in the light of recent disquieting world events.

The dapper executive, who has advocated immediate independence, concurred after listening to a broadcast from Washington, D. C., in which McNutt urged that American sovereignty should remain in the islands.

Under the Tydings-McDuffie act, the Philippines are guaranteed independence in 1948. McNutt asked immediate cooperation of Filipino leaders and Americans in a "realistic re-examination of their long-range interests and our own."

Quezon agreed to this in a statement but stipulated that the Philippines should be left "a free choice" in the final determination. During a trip to the United States last year, he advocated immediate independence for the islands, accompanied by economic guarantees.

Theater Attractions

Double features are scheduled for both local theaters Wednesday and Thursday.

The State bill includes a murder mystery, "The Invisible Menace," with Boris Karloff, Marie Wilson and Eddie Craven, and a musical comedy, "Thrill of a Lifetime," with a large cast of comedy and musical entertainers.

The story of the former begins on an eastern island used by the army as an ordnance arsenal. An officer has been slain. Several are suspected, including the mild-mannered Karloff. This is because he has had trouble, years previously, in Haiti, with the murdered man.

What Happened
There are a number of cut-back scenes at this point, illustrating what happened between the two men in Haiti. These scenes include a Negro revolution and some weird, mystic voodoo rites.

Not until the very end of the picture is the real murderer discovered and dealt with, in a smashing and surprising climax. Chief love interest in the second production is carried by lovely Eleanor Whitney and handsome Johnny Downs, who play the roles of a pair of vaudevillians looking for their main chance at the camp where a Broadway theatrical potpourri is also enjoying a vacation.

Comedians Featured
The film romance between Ben Blue and Judy Canova gives these inimitable screen zany the greatest

DUFFY BEGINS PROBE OF SHAW

Orders Transcript of Testimony Before Senate Committee

Sparks' position was abolished shortly after he testified, but Governor Davey said:

"If he can prove his charges, I will take him back and give him a handsome promotion as a reward for having rendered the public a great service, even though it was done through dirty political channels and from base partisan motives."

To this Sparks replied at his home: "How could I do more than I have to prove the charges? The records are available and I testified to them under oath."

Charges Conspiracy
The governor said that "I charge him with being part of the conspiracy of Scripps-Howard newspapers, Bricker and Sawyer." Charles Sawyer, Democratic national committeeman, and John W. Bricker, former Republican candidate for governor have announced their candidacies for the gubernatorial nomination.

The governor said the controversial "hot mix" highway program "is saving for the people of Ohio hundreds of millions of dollars of their investment by resurfacing old pavements which otherwise would have to be replaced completely."

He asserted that Ohio's "hot mix" costs were lower than those of Kentucky, West Virginia and New York and only slightly higher than those of Pennsylvania, Indiana and Michigan projects cannot be compared fairly, he said.

Betty Grable, Lelf Erikson, Larry Crabbe, Dorothy Lamour, Zeke and Judy Canova, Tommy Wonder and Franklin Pangborn round out the cast.

Other music is "Sweetheart Time" and "Paris in the Spring," and two numbers by the Yacht Club Boys. "If We Could Run the Country for a Day" and "It's Been a Whole Year."

Musical Concludes
